Topic No. 762 Independent Contractor vs. Employee

For federal employment tax purposes, the usual common law rules are applicable to determine if a worker is an independent contractor or an employee. Under the common law, you must examine the relationship between the worker and the business. You should consider all evidence of the degree of control and independence in this relationship. The facts that provide this evidence fall into three categories – Behavioral Control, Financial Control, and Relationship of the Parties.

Behavioral Control covers facts that show if the business has a right to direct and control what work is accomplished and how the work is done, through instructions, training, or other means.

Financial Control covers facts that show if the business has a right to direct or control the financial and business aspects of the worker's job. This includes:

- The extent to which the worker has unreimbursed business expenses
- The extent of the worker's investment in the facilities or tools used in performing services
- The extent to which the worker makes his or her services available to the relevant market
- How the business pays the worker, and
- The extent to which the worker can realize a profit or incur a loss

Relationship of the Parties covers facts that show the type of relationship the parties had. This includes:

- Written contracts describing the relationship the parties intended to create
- Whether the business provides the worker with employee-type benefits, such as insurance, a pension plan, vacation pay, or sick pay
- The permanency of the relationship, and
- The extent to which services performed by the worker are a key aspect of the regular business of the company

I. Writ of Mandamus for letters effectual to provisions of Constitutional Anti-Trust law to be accepted as "statements" for Corporate Ethics Responsibility when beyond the scope of the job description for "scientist" terms and conditions of insured work.

The letters as "statements" (17 U.S. Code § 104 Subject matter of copyright National origin) have ethics involved by the U.S. Attorney's Office to produce any claim that the Executive Committee members of the Kao Corporation corresponded that the "non-cognizable" efficiency of the merger acquisition analysis, and "statements" were involved by investor relations and duty of care by insured professional engineers, auditor controllers, directors, and officers of The Andrew Jergens Company (Currently known as Kao USA Inc.) with state government of the State of Ohio as licensed professionals, and insurance performed without negligence;

II. Writ of Mandamus during fiscal year 2000 under the insured liability any "indemnification" correspondence for work done by instruction with Jergens R&D Bldg. Cincinnati, Ohio for production of any document, report, memorandum, and or inter-office communication that was not involved by manufacturing, quality services, research and design for products as "On Going Concern" as evidence that gave protection to chemical technicians, and other lay worker.

Legal Note: Under the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (42 U.S. Code Section 12101 et. seq.)

29 CFR § 1630.2 - Definitions. (g) Definition of "disability" –

(iii) Being regarded as having such an impairment as described in paragraph (l) of this section. This means that the individual has been subjected to an action prohibited by the ADA as amended because of an actual or perceived impairment that is not both “transitory and minor.”

29 CFR § 1630.2 - Definitions. (l) "Is regarded as having such an impairment."

The following principles apply under the “regarded as” prong of the definition of disability (paragraph (g)(1)(iii)) of this section) above:

- (1) Except as provided in § 1630.15(f), an individual is “regarded as having such an impairment” if the individual is subjected to a prohibited action because of an actual or perceived physical or mental impairment, whether or not that impairment substantially limits, or is perceived to substantially limit, a major life activity. Prohibited actions include but are not limited to refusal to hire, demotion, placement on involuntary leave, termination, exclusion for failure to meet a qualification standard, harassment, or denial of any other term, condition, or privilege of employment
- (2) Except as provided in § 1630.15(f), an individual is “regarded as having such an impairment” any time a covered entity takes a prohibited action against the individual because of an actual or perceived impairment, even if the entity asserts, or may or does ultimately establish, a defense to such action.
- (3) Establishing that an individual is “regarded as having such an impairment” does not, by itself, establish liability. Liability is established under title I of the ADA only when an individual proves that a covered entity discriminated on the basis of disability within the meaning of section 102 of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. 12112.

29 CFR § 1630.16 - Specific activities permitted. (f) Health insurance, life insurance, and other benefit plans –

(1) An insurer, hospital, or medical service company, health maintenance organization, or any agent or entity that administers benefit plans, or similar organizations may underwrite risks, classify risks, or administer such risks that are based on or not inconsistent with State law.

- (2) A covered entity may establish, sponsor, observe or administer the terms of a bona fide benefit plan that are based on underwriting risks, classifying risks, or administering such risks that are based on or not inconsistent with State law.
- (3) A covered entity may establish, sponsor, observe, or administer the terms of a bona fide benefit plan that is not subject to State laws that regulate insurance.
- (4) The activities described in paragraphs (f) (1), (2), and (3) of this section are permitted unless these activities are being used as a subterfuge to evade the purposes of this part.

29 U.S. Code § 794. Nondiscrimination under Federal grants and programs

(d) STANDARDS USED IN DETERMINING VIOLATION OF SECTION

The standards used to determine whether this section has been violated in a complaint alleging employment discrimination under this section shall be the standards applied under title I of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (42 U.S.C. 12111 et seq.) and the provisions of sections 501 through 504, and 510,[1] of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (42 U.S.C. 12201–12204 and 12210), as such sections relate to employment.
